

BRUNEL DESIGN GROUP

> ACHIEVING HIGH STANDARDS . . .

Brunel Design Group specialises in multi-discipline design and project management consultancy, including architecture, civil & structural engineering and building services engineering.

Founded in 1994 as a group of engineers and architects looking for better ways of providing a service to customers buying from the construction industry, the group has to this day continued improving design, reducing costs and controlling quality.

With achieving high standards being the norm at Brunel Design Group, cost-effectiveness and efficiency have always been high on the agenda. To this end, in 1995, the group decided to join Constructionline. Noor Awan, Partner at Brunel Design Group explains, 'Being on Constructionline reduces the time and cost involved in the pre-qualification process, particularly with public sector bodies. By being able to achieve savings there, we can make better use of our resources and concentrate on doing a good job for our clients.'

> TIME SAVING . . .

For Brunel Design Group, this has brought various other benefits as well, as Noor explains, 'Not only have we been saving at least 100 hours per year in resource costs since joining Constructionline, but we have also started receiving a growing proportion of our enquiries and business through Constructionline without even having to submit pre-qualification forms'.

In addition to this, Brunel Design Group are now also using Constructionline to run both long and short lists to source sub-contractors for their larger projects. Noor adds, 'With free access to all of Constructionline's pre-qualified suppliers, we can now source fit-to-supply sub-contractors easily and at no extra cost. This enables us to maintain consistency and quality control right down our supply chain'.

Noor continues, 'Plus, the support we get from the Constructionline Client Relationship team has been very consistent. They are proactive and helpful, and I would recommend Constructionline to all other buyers and suppliers who want to grow their business'.
