

GABLES UK LTD

> GAINING INDUSTRY RECOGNITION . . .

Gables UK Ltd are a specialist waterproofing contractor, founded in 2001 following over 20 years experience in the industrial coatings industry. The main services the company supplies are fluid applied roof waterproofing, concrete repairs and cementitious coatings. They mainly operate in the north-west of England and offer their clients a value-added, quality-assured service which gives individual attention to their building problems.

However, due to the vast expansion of the construction industry and its competitive nature, experience alone is no longer enough to ensure a company's position in the marketplace. Clients are more and more concerned with compliance with current rules and regulations on health and safety, equal opportunities and protecting the environment, and in order to gain recognition of their continuing commitment to the above, Gables UK Ltd decided to join Constructionline.

Andy Snook, Managing Director at Gables, explains, 'The Constructionline accreditation gave us wider industry recognition and the opportunity to expand our business and our client base. Having their logo on our vehicles is a good advertising tool and markets us as a registered contractor.'

> RELEASING RESOURCES . . .

Clients in the UK are under continued pressure to use their budgets more effectively, which in turn increases the demands on contractors supplying them with products and services. In light of this, contractors like Gables must ensure that they provide not only the best service, but also the most competitive one. Their Constructionline membership enables them to get closer to their objectives.

Andy explains, 'By having our details available on the Constructionline database, we have been able to achieve savings in both time and administration resources, enabling us to release resources and free up staff members for more important tasks. I have no hesitation in recommending the system to other businesses'.
