

HIGGINS CONSTRUCTION PLC

> MAINTAINING HIGH STANDARDS . . .

Higgins Construction Plc is one of the leading names in community regeneration and affordable housing for London and the South East. Since the company's formation in 1961 they have established themselves as an integral part of their local community. The company provides a full construction service, delivered to the highest standards. As well as providing solutions to the region's housing shortages, they are also one of the leading names for quality and value in education and healthcare construction.

Higgins Construction were first prompted to apply for the Constructionline accreditation for the benefits that the system offers and were not disappointed by the results achieved. Anita Curtis, Marketing Manager at Higgins explains, 'One of the main benefits for us has been the considerable reduction in time spent on completing questionnaires. This enables us to achieve savings both in time and in resources'.

Higgins have been Constructionline accredited since the early days of the system and in all this time, they have found the service and the way it is delivered to be of the highest standard. Anita explains, 'We have been members of Constructionline since it was first set up and we have always been very happy with the service Constructionline provide and would recommend them without any reservations'.
