

AI Privacy Notice

Effective date : 1st June 2026

In compliance with our obligations under the GDPR and the UK GDPR, we notify individuals that Once For All Limited (“Once For All”) processes business information about them and the purposes for which we intend the data to be used.

This notice serves to provide you with information about the processing of certain personal information in relation to you and your professional or employment capacity.

Once For All processes your personal data for marketing and business development purposes on a legitimate interest basis. This includes identifying relevant organisations and business contacts, understanding what companies do, and assessing whether our services, products or opportunities may be relevant to your organisation.

We may use AI-assisted tools to help review and organise business and company information. This may include using information you provide to us, together with publicly available company information, to identify your organisation’s trade, sector, location, potential business needs and relevant opportunities in your area.

AI-assisted processing is used to support our research and marketing activities. We do not use AI to make decisions that have legal or similarly significant effects on individuals.

Source of your personal information: We may collect your personal information directly from you, for example when you complete a form on our website. We may also collect business contact and company information from publicly available sources, such as company websites, public registers, online business directories, trade websites, professional networking sites, social media business profiles and other publicly accessible online sources.

The categories of personal data collected and processed include:

- Full name;
- Employer company and company details;
- Office location, including country and city;
- Business telephone number;
- Business email address;
- Job title;
- Company website;

We also collect:

- Publicly available information about your company’s trade, sector, services or business activities; and
- Information used to identify potentially relevant business opportunities.

Your personal data is stored inside the UK and European Economic Area (EEA), unless otherwise stated in our Privacy Policy or required for the use of approved service providers.

Once For All will hold your personal data for as long as necessary for the purpose, or until you opt out from our database.

You have the following rights:

1. Request to have any inaccuracies corrected;
2. Object to us processing data about you;
3. Obtain copy of your personal data (in a machine-readable format), which you can use with another service provider;
4. Request the deletion of data we hold about you;
5. Make a complaint to a Supervisory Authority.

You also have the right to object to the use of your personal data for direct marketing at any time. You can do this by using the unsubscribe link in our emails or by contacting us using the details in our Privacy Policy.

For more information on your rights please you can access Once For All privacy policy at <https://onceforall.com/terms/#Privacy>